Hello all,

My extensive slide show, focused on opportunities given an eventual conversion of MC to LONG TERM drought resistance was well received two weeks ago. Since then I have updated and added slides to clarify, add insight about noise, and add ideas for features along our perimeter.

Several regulars missed the show.

As things turn out, Eve is not available this evening, and John is not either.

I'll take the opportunity for a repeat performance. It is not easy to grasp all the information and ideas held in 70 slides the first time through. And now there are 80. So this will be an opportunity for review, clarification, understanding, and discussion.

My slide show deals with opportunities for MAJOR, LONG TERM landscape changes as California finds itself in a 50 year (or more) drought and Menlo Commons finds itself compelled to cut back even more on irrigation. If not this year, then in coming years.

I hope that residents who have not participated in discussions of short term action to save water will come to participate in a discussion of LONG TERM opportunities for change that can be of great benefit to all residents.

Best, Dag

Meeting 8 is scheduled for Tuesday, Sep 27.

Note: As of Wednesday noon, these slides will be available for your perusal in the green binder in the Commons Board room, as well as our online archive:
